

Abba's House

Rev. Simon and Margaret Muhota

Simon Muhota is a pastor for the African Inland Church in the Kijabe area. He is in charge of a district that includes 100 churches and 50 pastors.

While receiving his Masters degree in Pastoral Care at Trinity Divinity University in Deerfield, Illinois, Simon and his wife Margaret felt the call to serve God by administering to the needs of the growing number of orphans in Kenya due to political unrest and AIDS.

Simon returned to Kenya in 2001. He immediately was impressed by the number of children who were orphaned and crying. Shortly after that God provided a sum of money to Simon. After conducting research about land acquisition, he located a five acre plot in a hillside community well suited for an orphanage. Thus began the Crying Children of Africa project.
